PRESENTATIONS

(Let Nick customize one of the following topics to your needs!)

◆ Naked and Alone with 80,000 PEOPLE!

The Kicker in all of us transcends phenomenal pressure. Harnessing passion with focus creates our own "office" in any environment. From our zone of focus, kicking the game winning field goal means closing the contract, acing any challenge, and maintaining poise in unpredictable circumstances ~ and with it, enhanced leadership skills, performance, consistency and success!

◆ "Kickass" Winning Teams

*Why are reality shows like Donald Trump's "The Apprentice" and "Survivor" so popular? Because they expose the raw realities, science and art of the faction. All leadership is learned through the small faction, or group, family, team, clan, tribe. Nick introduces the core concepts of Harvard's leadership model that turn the Bad News Bears into your *Monsters of the Midway!

◆ It's Not the Intensity of the Spotlight, but the Brightness of the Light Within

Helping launch Americorps for President Clinton, the winner of the U.S. Jaycees' Ten Outstanding American's Award (along with folks such as Elvis and John F. Kennedy) talks about the keys to inspiring the next generation of leaders and reclaiming America's role as example to the world.

The Art and Science of Peak Performance

A 2010 NFL Hall of Fame nominee and the 2009 Kansas City Chiefs Hall of Fame inductee, Nick Lowery, combines his insight into the ultimate pressure position in sports with leadership wisdom from Harvard and his work with the past four U.S. Presidents. Turn your moments of truth into game winning field goals!

"The biggest breakthrough in performance at an elite level is developing the belief that you belong there."

Life is an Investment in People

Honestly, how many of us, facing the biggest opportunities in our lives, haven't had moments of doubt, indecision, panic, fear, and self sabotage? After being cut 11 times by 8 NFL teams, Nick Lowery took his game to a level never before achieved, making him one of the most accurate and successful kickers in NFL history. Lowery has the outstanding ability to teach audiences how to confront pressure and anxiety and make it work for them in diverse situations – in business, education, life. His enthusiasm for boosting employee morale, teamwork, and developing more effective leaders is achieved by his unique talent for entertaining, and at the same time, leaving the listeners with the confidence to take on their dreams.

Results
